RAFFERTY CAPITAL MARKETS, LLC
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2002

Note 1 - Significant Accounting Policies

Rafferty Capital Markets, LLC was formed as a New York Limited Liability Company October 16, 2000. Its predecessor, Rafferty Capital Markets, Inc., was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York in 1988, and was merged with and into Rafferty Capital Markets, LLC effective November 30, 2000. The Company is a registered broker-dealer pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. The Company also provides mutual fund distribution and underwriting services in fifty states, and is a member of the FundServ System of the National Securities Clearing Corp.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company maintains its cash in accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has approximately $2,735,000 of uninsured cash balances at December 31, 2002.

Securities trading transactions and commission income of the Company are recorded on a trade date basis.

All of the Company's financial instruments are carried at fair market value or amounts approximating fair market value due to their short term nature or quoted market prices. Changes in market values of securities owned are included in the determination of net income.

Note 2 - Securities Owned, at Market

Marketable securities owned are considered trading securities by management. At December 31, 2002, marketable securities consist of equity securities ($486,430) and municipal bonds ($84,625).

Note 3 - Transactions with Related Entities

The Company is related to other entities through common ownership. The Company reimburses the related entities for its share of employee and operating costs paid directly by the related entities.

Note 4 - Income Taxes

Rafferty Capital Markets, LLC is taxed as a limited liability company for federal and state tax purposes. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes has been made in the accompanying financial statements.

Note 5 - Net Capital Requirement

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Net Capital Rule 15c3-1, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2002, the Company had net capital of $770,137, which was $592,678 in excess of its required net capital (the greater of 6 2/3% of aggregate indebtedness or $100,000). The Company's aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio was 3.46 to 1.

Note 6 - Employee Benefit Plans

The Company maintains a 401-k savings plan and a discretionary qualified profit sharing plan covering eligible full-time employees. During 2002, $81,500 and $322,751 were contributed by the Company into the 401-k and profit sharing plans, respectively.

Note 7 - Financial Transactions with Off-Balance-Sheet Risk

In the normal course of business, the Company's activities involve the execution, settlement and financing of various securities transactions. In the event the customer or other party to a securities transaction is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations, the Company may be required to purchase or sell financial instruments at prevailing market prices in order to satisfy its customer-related obligations.

Note 8 - Contingency

The Company is a defendant in three separate actions commenced by Lakeland Bank. These actions arise from the sale of pools of equipment leases by Commercial Money Center (CMC) and utilizing the Company as broker. Many of these leases have been placed into a defaulted position and Lakeland Bank now seeks rescission and other like remedies against CMC and other insuring defendants, including the Company, as broker.

To date, the complaints have been served and answers with cross-claims have been interposed. The matters have been administratively consolidated with myriad other similar actions against CMC and other defendants under the Federal Court's multi-jurisdictional process in Cleveland. During February 2003, the Company's legal counsel filed a motion to dismiss the action against the Company for failure to state a cause of action. Although no date has been set for a hearing on the matter, it is expected that a determination should be reached before the middle of April, 2003.

It is the intention of the Company's management and counsel to contest this matter.

The matter is too premature to formulate an evaluation of the outcome, accordingly, no loss accrual has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements. The potential loss, if any, is likely to be limited to Lakeland's investment of $18,000,000 along with counsel fees.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL REQUIRED BY S.E.C. RULE 17a-5

To the member of Rafferty Capital Markets, LLC:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Rafferty Capital Markets, LLC for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by the Company that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e). We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recording of differences required by rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of a system and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal accounting control procedures or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors, or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with them may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers and should not be used for any other purpose.
